

LO: I know how Non-Chronological reports are set out.

If this has tantalised your interest in terrific tigers, why not visit a local safari park to find out more?

Terrifying Tigers

The hunt

Habitat

A tiger's homeland is the savannah. As the sun rises on a new day, dew glistens on the grasslands and buffalos yawn to wake themselves up. Under the blistering midday heat, the tiger makes its way to the waterhole to cool down. As the tiger settles down at night, he hears a cacophony of noises. Stomp! Hum! Growl!

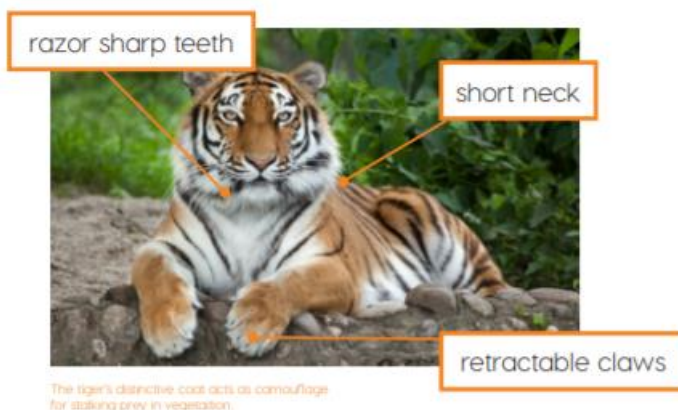

Why would nobody listen to the tiger's story?

Because his tail was too long!

Did you know tigers have retractable claws?

Interestingly, tigers have enormous, meat-slicing teeth but no chewing teeth.

When a tiger is preparing to eat lunch, it uses its powerful front legs to bring down prey effortlessly. Once the chase is on, the tiger is as fast as a rocket. Upon attack, it automatically extends its claws: needle-sharp, long and deadly.