Dear Strange Old Man,

A few days ago I sold you my cow at the market. I am now writing to ask if I could buy my cow, Daisy, back off you.

At the time my mother and I were very poor and I had no choice but to sell Daisy, even though we loved her very much. Do you have a pet you love very much?

In exchange for the cow you gave me some beans, which you told me were magic. My mother didn't believe me at first and threw them out of the window. However, overnight they grew and grew into a gigantic beanstalk that had a greedy, rich giant living at the top! Did you know this would happen?

The giant tried to eat me but I escaped with some gold and am now very rich myself. Please let me know how much you want for my cow, I miss her very much.

Yours Sincerely

Jack
