

Darwin loved to study the differences between species of animals. You can find butterflies in a huge variety of colours and patterns! However, all butterflies are symmetrical (their wings are mirror reflections of each other).

Can you finish off these butterfly pictures? Remember to make them symmetrical!

(If you don't have a printer, maybe you could draw your own butterflies?)

